India Electing Chief Of State; Gandhi Accused

NEW DELHI (AP) — Attempts to heal the rift in India's ruling Congress party failed early today, hours before presidential elections were to choose a new chief of state.

The president of the party accused Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of siding with the Communists to support independent candidate V. V. Giri against the official party nominee, Sanjiva Reddy.

In a letter to Mrs. Gandhi, Siddhavanahalli Nijalingappa, Congress party president, rejected her demand that party members be allowed to vote for whomever they please.

"Your demand for a free vote is in fact a demand for the right to vote for Mr. V. V. Giri, a candidate nominated by the Communists and Communists," he said.

"History does not record of an instance where a prime minister after proposing a party's candidate, not only works against him but proclaims her support for the candidate of the opposition."

Mrs. Gandhi has made no official endorsement of a candidate but many of her supporters are working for the election of Giri, who resigned as vice president last month and announced his candidacy after a party committee selected Reddy as its nominee for president.

Reddy, a former speaker of the lower house of Parliament, is a long-time political foe of Mrs. Gandhi with strong support from right-wing elements in the party.

The outcome of the election will not be known until Wednesday when the 4,137 votes from members of 17 state legislatures and Parliament are delivered to New Delhi for counting.

A victory for Reddy would give right-wing Congress party leaders the leverage they need to oust Mrs. Gandhi, although they have denied that this is their intention.

A defeat for Reddy would give Mrs. Gandhi strong support to continue in office, perhaps in a coalition with left-wing parties that have supported Giri.

Collision Blame Falls On Evans

MANILA (AP) — Both the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans and the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne were to blame for the collision that killed 74 American seamen, but "the primary responsibility rested with the destroyer," a two-nation board of inquiry has concluded.

In a five-page statement of its findings released Friday, the panel of American and Australian officers refrained from naming individuals it considered responsible in order to avoid prejudicing their rights "in any possible future official proceedings."

The Australian naval department announced shortly before the findings were released that the captain of the Melbourne would face a court-martial Wednesday on charges of failing to take the proper measures to avoid a collision.

The U.S. Navy has not yet announced whether it will file charges against any men aboard the Evans.

The Melbourne sliced the Evans in two before dawn on June 3 during Southeast Asia Treaty Organization maneuvers in the South China Sea.

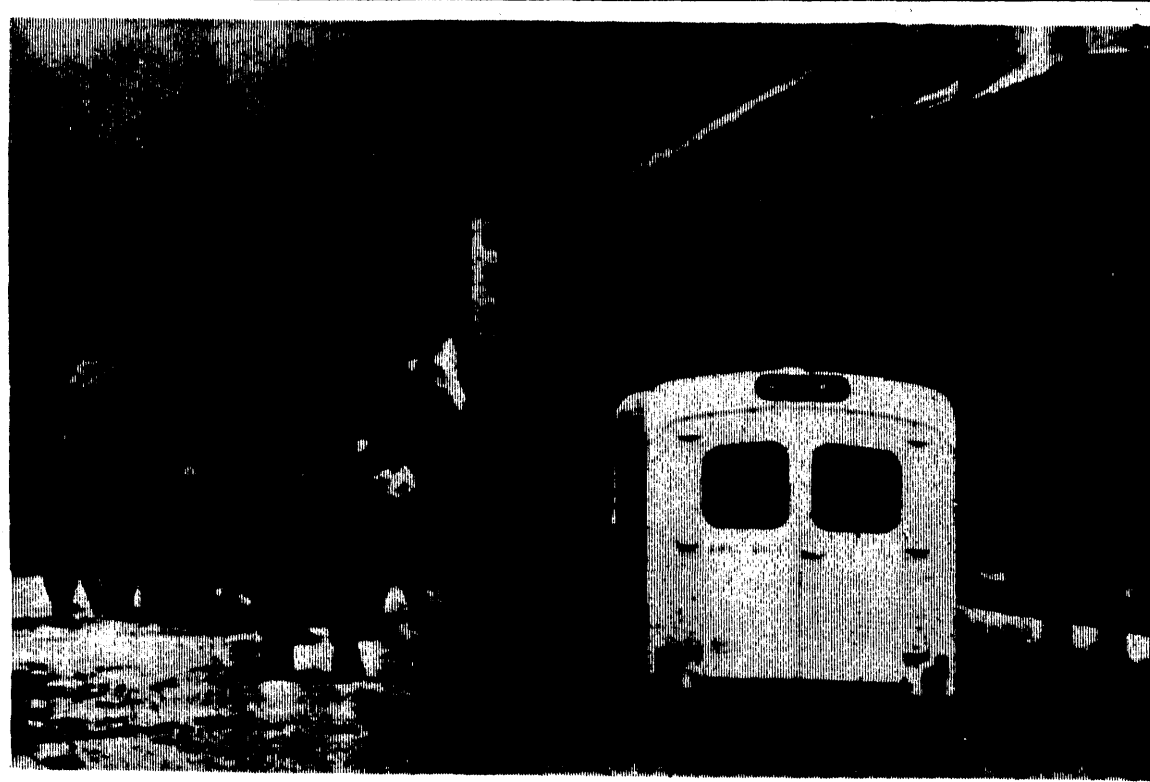

The six-member inquiry board said a number of errors contributed to the tragedy, including "the incorrect decoding of the task unit commanders' signal... which announced that the Melbourne's course was 260 degrees."

"Evans," the panel reported, "decided this signal to mean that the carrier was turning left to 160 degrees."

British Troops Split Factions

Protestant Mobs Bomb Catholic Bars

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant mobs armed with fire bombs burned and looted Roman Catholic bars today in scattered areas of Belfast unprotected by British troops. But soldiers separated the warring factions in the riot-torn capital's major trouble spots.

Occasional sniper fire was heard this morning in the predominantly Catholic Falls Road area, but by noon public transportation was reported operating normally and housewives were going to market.

Additional British troops were being flown in to strengthen an estimated 1,600 already here as the violence continued. Police said 2 persons were killed and 224 wounded in the fourth straight night of sectarian battles in North Irish cities. The death toll in Ulster since Tuesday rose to eight as a 25-year-old man died of gunshot wounds suffered before the British troops arrived.

More than 700 have been injured in the state's worst civil disorders since the Irish Civil War of 1920-22.

Police said Protestant gangs attacked Catholic-owned bars in three sections of Belfast. They gave the owners 15 minutes to get out, then threw milk bottles filled with gasoline, detergent and sugar inside the buildings. The mixture burns like napalm.

Barbed Wire
Troops of Britain's Queens and Wales regiments, ordered into Belfast Friday evening, strung barbed wire in the streets and set up machine-gun nests to separate the predominantly Catholic Falls Road and Davis Street areas from Protestant neighborhoods.

The army reported the areas under control by 3 a.m., but in other parts of the city police armored cars rumbled along streets before dawn, firing machine guns to break up mobs of arsonists and looters.

In Londonderry, officers commanding British troops in the Bogside district crossed barricades erected by Catholic residents to confer with Bernadette Devlin, 22-year-old civil rights leader and the youngest member of the British Parliament. Miss Devlin said the Bogside was glad to see the British troops but reminded the officers, "Bogside is ours."

Search Trains
Soldiers also manned roadblocks along highways leading from the Irish Republic in the south to Northern Ireland. Members of the Irish Republican Army, outlawed on both sides of the border, were reported shipping into the north, and a group claiming to represent the IRA seized a movie theater in Belfast.

Police and customs officers stopped and searched all trains from Dublin.

Poison Gas Trains Nearing Destinations

By The Associated Press
Two trains carrying phosgene, a poison gas used in World War I, today neared their destination—industrial plants where it will be converted to peaceful uses.

Shipment of the 300 tons of gas across the country from the Rocky Mountain Arsenal in Colorado raised protests and one train was delayed en route.

One shipment moved across the Mississippi countryside at 30 miles an hour on its way to Geismar, La., where it is to be used in making plastics.

Illinois Central Railroad officials said they would take the train through the outskirts of New Orleans rather than through Baton Rouge on the way to its destination near Baton Rouge.

The second shipment was bound for Vandemark Industries of Lockport, N.Y., where it would be converted to either a weed killer or synthetic foam. It was purchased from the Army by Jones Chemical Co. of Batavia, N.Y.

It originally was scheduled to go through Canada, but was barred under the Canadian cusoms Tariff Act. The train was delayed for three hours Thursday in rail yards near Chicago while it was rerouted through Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, which took over the handling, said first the train would have to stop at the Ravenna, Ohio, ordinance plant for clearance before final delivery.

The B&O later said the Army and U.S. Department of Transportation asked that the train not stop at Ravenna, and it continued across Ohio.

It entered Pennsylvania early today, a B&O spokesman in Allentown said.

The first announcement said, "The cars pose no threat in their present condition while standing at the Ravenna ordinance plant and will be moved under all possible safeguards when the B&O is given further instructions for the handling of this train."

Two gas experts accompanied each train.

The railroad said the cars would be turned over to the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad at Buffalo, N.Y.

Performers were being ferried to the site by helicopter from hotels in nearby Liberty. Most of the fans, however, had no shelter. A carnival-like atmosphere prevailed as they prepared to sleep in the open fields.

There were some tents set up but most of the youths simply unrolled a bedroll and turned in. Those who could afford the $25 nightly rate at nearby hotels and motels were not much better off because of the difficulty of travel.

No Shelter
Facilities were meager. Portable toilets had been set up and six wells dug to provide running water, but there was no shelter available at the site.

There were long lines at the mobile food centers even though many of the young people had packed in their own food. One commune was passing out a free gruel made of peanuts, oatmeal, raisins and sunflower seeds.

There seemed little likelihood that the massive jam would break until the festival ended.

Word spread quickly when the producers asked early today for cars to turn around and go home.

"No chance," said one youth shaking his head. "This is where it's at."

Government Stylesetters Skirt Battle Of Hemline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's stylesetters deftly skirt the battle of the hemline for women in uniform.

The government diplomatically eschews the ruler or the tape. Instead it uses such negotiable guidelines as "good taste," "conservatively fashionable" and "adjusted to current styles but not extreme."

Those are the skirt-length edicts of the military services, Post Office Department, General Services Administration and National Park Service who have gals in uniform.

At the GSA, which prescribes uniforms for women elevator operators in government buildings, officials aren't about to be hemmed in by the hemline.

"Due to fluctuations of style, we try to maintain a stylish length and a uniform look," said one male GSA official.

Goes Mod
The Park Service has dropped its regulation that a girl's hemline could be no more than one inch above the floor when she is kneeling.

The Post Office has gone mod in a few locations to promote use of the five-digit ZIP code. It has employed girls to aid customers in Louisville, Memphis and Cincinnati Post Office lobbies as "Miss Zips"—and their skirts are four inches above the knee.

Other female postal workers abide by the edict to "dress appropriately from the standpoint of appearance and safety."

For the women in the military services, hemlines are all close neighbors to the kneecaps.

For women Marines, "its conventional sweep and length and adjusted to current styles but not extreme," says Lt. Col. Margaret Brewer, deputy director. That dictum currently is interpreted as mid-knee.

Re-evaluate
"Of course we do keep re-evaluating our regulation. A few years ago it was mid-calf," she says.

For women in the Air Force, it's no lower than the bottom of the kneecap and no higher than the top of the kneecap. For WAVES, the women in the Navy, the guidance is that hemlines should be on the conservative side of current fashion. As of today, that's the top of the knee.

For the Army's WACS, it's "a conservative fashionable length," says Col. Marie Kehrer at WAC headquarters.

None of the services report trouble with young recruits insisting on miniskirts. "But occasionally you have a girl come in who needs a little instruction," Col. Kehrer says.

Court Hearing On Autopsy Set
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A court hearing on a request for an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne will be held Aug. 25.

The date was set Friday after Edmund Dinis, district attorney for Dukes County, Mass., conferred for a half an hour in the chambers of Presiding Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court.

Dinis said an exhumation and autopsy on the body of the 28-year-old former secretary of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was vital to an inquest he has scheduled for Sept. 3 in Edgartown.

Teddy To Retire
LANSING (AP) — Cpl. William J. Teddy, 50, of the Bay City post, will retire Aug. 22 after more than 27 years on the State Police force. Teddy joined the State Police in 1941 and served at Ypsilanti, St. Ignace and Marquette posts.

Houston Fetes Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — America's moon heroes, rested from a whirlwind coast-to-coast tour, receive the acclaim of their adopted hometown today at a big parade and a party with more than 50,000 guests expected.

Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. ride today in a parade through downtown Houston, the city that's next door to the Manned Spacecraft Center training headquarters of the American astronaut corps.

Joining in the parade are 26 other astronauts.

Houstonians made plans to shower the spacemen with paper, cheers and some funny money printed for the occasion.

Funny Money
The money, supplied by a printing company, is called "Moonshot Certificates" and bears the portraits of the Apollo 11 astronauts.

Spacecraft from the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo programs will be towed on trailers through the parade. Floats depicting the nations space effort, 10 bands, 14 marching units and a fly-over by Texas Air National Guard fighters are also planned.

Frank Sinatra will be master of ceremonies tonight for what city officials billed as a "party" at the Astrodome. But space agency officials said privately it has turned out to be more of a headache.

Manding Room
The city gave the National Aeronautics and Space Administration 31,000 tickets to distribute to its 4,700 employees and the 16,000 employees of space contractors in the area.

But many supervisors, said one man, ended up getting six or more tickets "and the little man was left out."

The city distributed 15,000 tickets. Each city councilman got 40.

A final batch of 5,000 for standing room only was offered free to the public. They were gone in 90 minutes.

The show will include singers Nancy Ames and Dionne Warwick and comedians Flip Wilson and Bill Dana. Marguerite Piazza will open it by singing the National Anthem.

The party winds up a week of tribute for the Apollo 11 astronauts that included ticket parade in New York and Chicago, and a state dinner that President Nixon held for them in Los Angeles.

News In Brief
SAIGON (AP) — Ground fighting across South Vietnam appeared to have tapered off sharply overnight, but enemy troops kept up their rocket and mortar attacks, hitting 45 allied bases and towns, military spokesmen said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper, fearful of another Vietnam, will press for putting the Senate on record opposing use of U.S. troops in Thailand to combat possible Communist insurgency.

Mack Requests
Land Auction
MARQUETTE (AP) — An Upper Peninsula legislator continued his fight for the auctioning of certain state land Friday with a request to the State Natural Resources Commission to endorse his position.

Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, asked the commission to back his Senate-passed bill that would require the state to auction all lands that reverted to the state because the owners defaulted on tax payments. The commission heard his presentation but did not act on it.

Mack said he doesn't want the land sold, but hopes to force the state to pay local governments more for recreation lands within their boundaries. He comes from a tax-poor area which contains vast areas of state-owned land.

The state currently pays only 20 cents an acre to local governments for tax-reverted land. The commission does not have authority to either raise the current allotment or act on the proposal. Mack said he went to it because of a letter on his bill from Commissioner E.M. Lallala to state legislators.

He said the bill as passed by the Senate would require the commission to put all tax-reverted state lands up for auction. That would include about 75 per cent of the state's recreation land.

Mack maintained that he only wanted the allotment raised, not recreation lands sold.

He said the current practice has the effect of taxing local governments containing the state land, which is of benefit to the entire state.

"If these state lands are worth so much, the people of the Upper Peninsula shouldn't have to carry the burden," he said.

"I'm going to pass that bill if it's the last thing I do," he added. "I'm even going to get the commission to endorse it."

Winds Building After Lashing Western Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — More than half a million residents of the Gulf coast from Florida to Mississippi were placed on a hurricane watch today as Camille howled toward that area with 100-mile an hour winds.

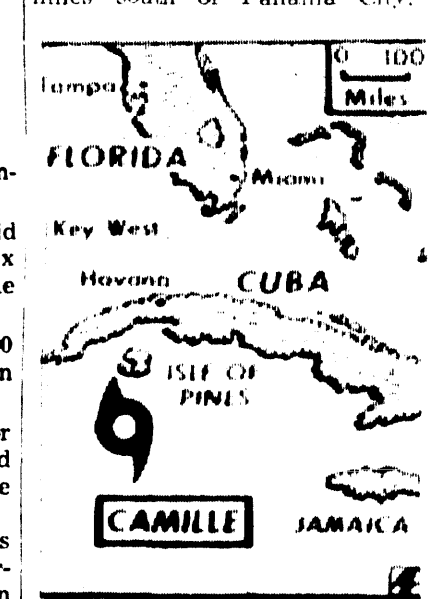

As Hurricane Camille stuck to a north-northwest track, the watch was ordered from Biloxi, Miss., to St. Marks, Fla., a coastal stretch embracing the coastal stretch embracing the sacola, Fla.

Red and black hurricane warning flags were expected to fly by noon EDT for a smaller, more pinpointed area.

Slowly rebuilding fury lost in the overnight crossing of Cuba, Camille chased small craft into port the length of the Florida West Coast and all the way around the Gulf to Grand Isle, La.

Tides will build up slowly during the day along the area of the hurricane watch and squalls with gale-force winds were expected to begin raking the coastline Saturday night.

Great Danger
At 9 a.m. EDT, Camille was located near Latitude 24.1 north, Longitude 85.8 West or about 420 miles south of Panama City.

Fla. Gales gusted out 150 miles from the center.

"Camille is a dangerous hurricane and poses a great threat to the United States mainland," said the Hurricane Center at Miami.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the center, said the full force of the hurricane should strike the coast Sunday.

Camille's top winds were knocked down from 115 to 100 miles an hour as she lashed across the rich tobacco croplands of western Cuba, sending hundreds of persons fleeing to high ground in that flood-vulnerable area.

Havana Radio was silent today on the damage wreaked by the storm as rains up to 10 inches sent floodwaters pouring down the mountainsides.

As Camille thrashed north-northwest up the Gulf at 10 miles an hour, forecasters waited for a hurricane hunter plane to make the first penetration of Tropical Storm Debbie, a grow-

Space Prayer Hearing Granted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair has won a federal court hearing for her suit that seeks to stop American astronauts from reciting religious matters while in space.

Mrs. O'Hair had previously instituted a suit that led to a Supreme Court ruling against mandatory prayers in public schools.

She now seeks temporary restraining order against the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the astronauts to keep them from permitting or conducting any religious activities in space, "especially the reading of the sectarian Christian religion's Bible."

Judge John R. Brown granted her request for a panel of three federal judges to hear her suit. No date was set for the hearing.

200,000 Young People Gather To Hear Rock

WHITE LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Like legions of vagabond soldiers, more than 200,000 young followers of pop music have descended here in rag tag fashion for a three-day rock festival, partially paralyzing this town and jamming area roads.

With increasing numbers of cars being abandoned on the highways leading to this Catskill Mountains resort area, the festival producers today called on "all vehicles heading for the festival to turn back home."

"Everything is quite out of hand," said a state trooper who described the area as "super-saturated." He said troopers at some posts had to be relieved by helicopter because traffic made the roads impassable.

Despite the road jams, intermittent thundershowers and a shortage of food, most of the young people remained peaceful, taking the inconveniences in good humor and helping each other out.

Held On Farm
The town has a population of 3,000 and is about 100 miles northwest of New York City. Normally it is a summer haven for the middle-aged and middle class.

What brought everybody here is something the producers call the Woodstock Music and Art Fair, an Aquarian Exposition. It is set up on a 600-acre farm with the stage at the foot of an alfalfa field that forms a natural amphitheater.

State police said 50 to 60 persons had been arrested on charges of possessing such drugs as LSD, barbiturates and amphetamines but there were no serious incidents or violence as of early today.

Elsewhere around the state, troopers reported another 100 youths arrested on drug charges as they made stepped up spot checks of cars headed for the festival.

Both police and young people at the festival appeared determined to try and avoid a major confrontation.

Carnival - Like

The music that brought everyone here had become almost unimportant. The opening concert Friday night was of folk orientation. Richie Havens opened the bill but few people seemed to notice which performer was on stage.

Today's acts—set to run from 2 p.m. to 2 a.m.—include the Who, Jefferson Airplane and Janis Joplin. For Sunday the billing included The Band, Jimi Hendrix and Crosby, Stills and Nash.

Performers were being ferried to the site by helicopter from hotels in nearby Liberty. Most of the fans, however, had no shelter. A carnival-like atmosphere prevailed as they prepared to sleep in the open fields.

Space Prayer Hearing Granted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair has won a federal court hearing for her suit that seeks to stop American astronauts from radioing religious matters while in space.

Mrs. O'Hair had previously instituted a suit that led to a Supreme Court ruling against mandatory prayers in public schools.

She now seeks temporary restraining order against the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the astronauts to keep them from permitting or conducting any religious activities in space, "especially the reading of the sectarian Christian religion's Bible."

Judge John R. Brown granted her request for a panel of three federal judges to hear her suit. No date was set for the hearing.

Three Men Killed At Train Crossing

DAVISON (AP) — Three Millington men were killed Friday when their car was struck by a Grand Trunk Western passenger train at a grade crossing near Davison in Genesee County.

The victims were identified as Chauncey A. Bassett, 51, James G. Redding, 38, and William Henry Sherman, 26.

Witnesses said the car was moving at a high rate of speed when it was struck. The crossing had flashers and a warning bell but no gates.

No one aboard the train was injured.

Doelle Students Go To Baraga

LANSING (AP) — Some 40 children affected by a disputed Upper Peninsula school district reorganization should plan to attend Baraga township schools a State Education Board hearing officer has ruled.

George Schutt, hearing officer, made the suggestion Friday following a preliminary hearing in Lansing into a decision by the Copper Country Intermediate School District to transfer the Doelle Elementary School from Houghton's Portage Township District to Baraga Township. Portage seeks board revocation of the transfer order.

Schutt said waiting periods required by law, together with administrative delay would prevent a final decision within the next month. He said students who enroll in Baraga schools would be classed as residents for the entire school year.

The redistricting step was ordered by the Keewenaw Peninsula District after a petition by Adams Township residents.

Bruno Kemplinen, spokesman for supporters of the Baraga annexation proposal, said 104 to 140 qualified voters signed the petition.

Bruce Wolch, Portage School District superintendent, said transfer of the school property and students to the Baraga system would put Portage Township below a "feasible" operating level.

Wolch contended the decision to transfer Doelle was made "on the basis of emotion and not on the facts."

"Every single transfer of property has been overruled by the state board against Copper Country," he said.

Wolch contended transfer of Doelle would mean a loss of some $38,000 in local tax and state aid revenues to the Portage system. He said Portage Township levies 19.6 mills (some 20 cents per $1,000) and that 12½ of it is extra millage approved by the district's voters. The district has no debt, he said.

Wolch claimed the Baraga Township system was not accredited by the North Central High School Association.

North Central Sets Records

North Central Airlines announced today that July's passenger traffic reached the highest level in the company's 21-year history with 312,429 passengers carried and 60,848,081 passenger miles flown.

David E. Moran, vice president-traffic and sales, reported that the monthly passenger-mile total (one passenger carried one mile) was an increase of 20 per cent over July last year.

He also said the number of passengers set a new high by exceeding the previous record month of August, 1968. Cargo, including air freight, express, and mail, showed a 14 per cent gain with 701,313 ton miles transported.

Of the 2,142,433 miles scheduled, 2,137,235 were flown for a completion factor of 99.8 per cent.

For the first seven months of 1969, the airline carried 1,838,321 passengers compared with 1,685,322 in 1968. Some 331,233,805 passenger miles were flown—16 per cent over the same period last year—and cargo ton miles rose to 4,647,004, 25 per cent ahead of 1968.

There was no Governor's luncheon Friday as Milliken had a previous commitment at Marquette, but Milliken spent more time at the fair than any governor since G. Mennen Williams, according to Frank Bender Jr. of Escanaba, a member of the fair board of managers.

The governor, who arrived by plane from Marquette at the Escanaba Municipal Airport about 1:20 p. m., spoke briefly to the crowd at the grandstand, then made his midway stroll accompanied by Clifford Perras, secretary-manager of the fair, Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistique, Congress Philip E. Ruppe of Houghton, members of the fair board, and U. P. Fair Queen Kathy Madden of Gladstone.

The governor's official State Police escort was Trooper Robert Madden of Gladstone, father of the queen.

Milliken commended the fair board for its work in preparing an excellent fair program. He praised the City of Escanaba for its new airport terminal and field development and also industry of the area for its expansion.

He presented a citation to Bender for his years of outstanding service to the Fair Board of Managers.

The governor, smiling the length of the midway, stopped to greet both the young and the older fairgoers, shaking hands and asking polite questions.

Anti-Pollution Hearing:

Cities, Industries Advised To Appear

Hearings in connection with the protection of public waters in Northern Michigan will be held by the state in the Civic Center at Escanaba Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 20-21.

Ralph W. Purdy, executive secretary of the State Water Resources Commission, will preside.

The Aug. 20 meeting will open at 9 a. m. and there will be the presentation of several prepared and written statements prior to the scheduled appearance of the City of Manistique for statutory hearing.

Manistique (and other municipalities to appear, including the City of Gladstone at 10 a. m. Aug. 21) will be given an opportunity to answer the Commission's charge that they are causing unlawful pollution.

Besides Manistique and Gladstone, statutory hearings are scheduled for Iron Mountain-Kingsford and Norway; and a show-cause conference is scheduled on Aug. 21 for the Village of Mackinaw City.

Mackinaw City must show

why the Commission should not initiate statutory procedures to require it to construct secondary or lagoon treatment and phosphate removal facilities. Such facilities must be built if the village is to comply with Michigan's interstate water quality standards.

The conference with the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. is scheduled for 11 a. m. on Aug. 20 and is a discussion on waste treatment needs, the Commission reports. A conference on a similar problem will be discussed with the City of Bessemer at 4 p. m. Aug. 20.

Discharges of certain copper and iron mining wastes, subject of a recently released state attorney general's opinion, will come before the Commission on a use designation of streams public hearing.

Proposals for specific water uses to be protected in certain Upper Peninsula waters by Michigan standards of water quality for inland lakes and streams will be presented at the hearings scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Aug. 20.

The Commission at the Escanaba meeting will also consider citing for unlawful pollution in the City of Mason in Ingham County, Village of Dexter in Washtenaw County, Northfield Township in Washtenaw County, and Miller Industries of Reed City in Osceola County. If issued, each notice of determination and hearing will contain a date for a statutory hearing as well as a proposed pollution abatement order.

Also to be considered by the Commission will be a final order to the Denton Sleeping Garment Mills, Inc., St. Joseph County, which if issued would require pollution abatement by a certain date.

Feeder Calves To Bring More, Says Hartwig

Feeder calf prices this fall are expected to run higher than last year according to R. T. Hartwig, MSU extension economist. Fed cattle prices may decrease somewhat with the good supply, however, feeders may run higher than last year's prices.

Current prices in Omaha and other western areas are $32-$39 for choice steer calves. Adding $2 per cwt. transportation gives some idea of current prices for these calves brought to Michigan.

Marketing research indicates that each full grade of calves from Good to Choice and Choice to Prime was worth about $1.50 per hundred-weight while Standards brought $6.77 a hundred less than Choice grade feeders. This information points up the importance of doing a good job now with your calves in order to get the highest prices this fall.

J. L. Heimman, MSU county extension director advises that local calves are doing fine and about 2,000 are expected to be sold from the county this fall. The feeder sale at Rapid River on Oct. 7 will in all probability handle over 1,000. The rest will be sold by farmers to private buyers.

Sergeant Gets $10,826 Bonus

K. I. SAWYER — T. Sgt. Orville Gallimore, 410th Aviation Maintenance Squadron, has received a $10,826 reenlistment payment check which, according to officials at the Air Force Accounting and Finance Center, Denver, Colo., is the largest reenlistment payment ever given at one time in the Air Force.

Sgt. Gallimore served eight years in the Army before transferring to the Air Force as an electronic warfare repairman.

His record payment was due largely to the Air Force's Variable Reenlistment Bonus program which pays up to four times the basic bonus in certain critical skills. Sgt. Gallimore's reenlistment bonus totaled $9,696, however other allowances such as accrued leave pushed the amount to the record total.

Escanaba Men Winners In Gem And Mineral Show

Two Escanaba residents won prizes for exhibits at the recent Upper Peninsula Gem and Mineral Show.

Albert E. Murray won the first place ribbon for minerals of any size or type, second place for minerals of one element group (sulfur minerals), first place for polished nodules (Lake Superior agates), second place for general lapidary, second place for cabochons of more than one material, and the champion rosette for the best mineral exhibit.

Gerald Collegen received the third place ribbon for the best exhibit in mixed animal and plant fossils.

The other four winners of champion rosettes were Bernard Smith of Marquette for lapidary, his son, Ken Smith for fossils, Lillian Sarazin of Calumet for silver jewelry, and John Tuchowski of Crystal Falls for the best open exhibit.

Close Gap In Life Expectancy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Los Angeles scientist says the nation should begin a project to close the life expectancy gap between men and women.

Dr. Henry Sobel told a news conference that the life expectancy of American males went down four months last year — the first such decline since statistics on the subject have been tabulated. He said the average man in this country now lives 68 years, the average woman 73.

Sobel, currently chief of aging research at the Sepulveda Veterans Hospital, says scientists should concentrate on finding ways to relieve males of some of the physical and psychological burdens of living in crowded civilizations.

Sobel is doing his part by moving from the hospital in a crowded district of Los Angeles to a post as professor of biochemistry at Colorado State University.

Anti-Pollution Hearing: Cities, Industries Advised To Appear

Hearings in connection with the protection of public waters in Northern Michigan will be held by the state in the Civic Center at Escanaba Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 20-21.

Ralph W. Purdy, executive secretary of the State Water Resources Commission, will preside.

The Aug. 20 meeting will open at 9 a.m. and there will be the presentation of several prepared and written statements prior to the scheduled appearance of the City of Manistique for statutory hearing.

Manistique (and other municipalities to appear, including the City of Gladstone at 10 a.m. Aug. 21) will be given an opportunity to answer the Commission's charge that they are causing unlawful pollution.

Besides Manistique and Gladstone, statutory hearings are scheduled for Iron Mountain-Kingsford and Norway; and a show-cause conference is scheduled on Aug. 21 for the Village of Mackinaw City. Mackinaw City must show why the Commission should not initiate statutory procedures to require it to construct secondary or lagoon treatment and phosphate removal facilities. Such facilities must be built if the village is to comply with Michigan's interstate water quality standards.

The conference with the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Aug. 20 and is a discussion on waste treatment needs, the Commission reports. A conference on a similar problem will be discussed with the City of Bessemer at 4 p.m. Aug. 20.

Discharges of certain copper and iron mining wastes, subject of a recently released state attorney general's opinion, will come before the Commission on a use designation of streams public hearing.

Proposals for specific water uses to be protected in certain Upper Peninsula waters by Michigan standards of water quality for inland lakes and streams will be presented at the hearings scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Aug. 20.

The Commission at the Escanaba meeting will also consider citing for unlawful pollution in the City of Mason in Ingham County, Village of Dexter in Washtenaw County, Northfield Township in Washtenaw County, and Miller Industries of Reed City in Osceola County. If issued, each notice of determination and hearing will contain a date for a statutory hearing as well as a proposed pollution abatement order.

Also to be considered by the Commission will be a final order to the Denton Sleeping Garment Mills, Inc., St. Joseph County, which if issued would require pollution abatement by a certain date.

Feeder Calves To Bring More, Says Hartwig

Feeder calf prices this fall are expected to run higher than last year according to R. T. Hartwig, MSU extension economist. Fed cattle prices may decrease somewhat with the good supply, however, feeders may run higher than last year's prices.

Current prices in Omaha and other western areas are $32-$39 for choice steer calves. Adding $2 per cwt. transportation gives some idea of current prices for these calves brought to Michigan.

Marketing research indicates that each full grade of calves from Good to Choice and Choice to Prime was worth about $1.50 per hundred-weight while Standards brought $6.77 a hundred less than Choice grade feeders. This information points up the importance of doing a good job now with your calves in order to get the highest prices this fall.

J. L. Heirman, MSU county extension director advises that local calves are doing fine and about 2,000 are expected to be sold from the county this fall.

The feeder sale at Rapid River on Oct. 7 will in all probability handle over 1,000. The rest will be sold by farmers to private buyers.

Sergeant Gets $10,826 Bonus

K. I. SAWYER — T. Sgt. Orville Gallimore, 410th Avionics Maintenance Squadron, has received a $10,826 reenlistment payment check which, according to officials at the Air Force Accounting and Finance Center, Denver, Colo., is the largest reenlistment payment ever given at one time in the Air Force.

Sgt. Gallimore served eight years in the Army before transferring to the Air Force as an electronic warfare repairman.

His record payment was due largely to the Air Force's Variable Reenlistment Bonus program which pays up to four times the basic bonus in certain critical skills. Sgt. Gallimore's reenlistment bonus totaled $9,696, however other allowances such as accrued leave pushed the amount to the record total.

Due to the increased enrollment, there will be double sections of all elementary grades from K through 6.

the students of Hermansville and Carney-Nadeau can be served to the degree that space is available.

Spotlight On U.P.

Michigan Challenge, monthly magazine published by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce devotes its latest issue to the Upper Peninsula. There are stories on industry, tourism, new attractions, highways, limestone, the people of the peninsula, education, copper mining, iron mining, hunting and fishing, forest products and lands and forests by some of the Upper Peninsula's most knowledgeable persons.

Here are some of the comments:

"Industry in great diversification has been flourishing, turning out products ranging all the way from abrasives and advertising specialties to helicopters and woodenware, with bags, beer and boats, furniture, pulleys and sauna stoves between. In fact there are more than 180 product classifications produced in the Upper Peninsula, many in substantial volumes. . . . It has been shown that the basic factors, the needs of industry, are present in the U.P. — people, natural resources, energy and transportation. Some are available in excess capacity. The segment out of balance is the investment in productive facilities to utilize the other factors to the fullest extent." — William F. Wilson, executive manager, Operation Action U.P.

Tourism "has been a big business for many years. . . . A total of $190 million annually is added to the economy of the U.P. through tourism. . . . Upper Peninsula tourism could be boosted if several multi-million complexes were developed to attract national and international vacationers. This might be possible if the major land owners in the U.P. would pool financial resources and establish possibly three major investment development corporations to build at least 12 major, multi-million dollar year-around travel complexes on their own lands. . . ." — Kenneth Dorman, secretary-manager, Upper Michigan Tourist Association.

"The people are changing with the economy, with job opportunities and perhaps especially with a change of values. For the Upper Peninsula's 'isolation' is now being regarded as 'uncongested' — a more desirable situation. Some writers have professed to find in the Upper Peninsula some frosty edges on nationality group relationships, but residents aren't impressed that there's any real hostility. The area has achieved an amicable social amalgam. The Catholic parish rolls are sprinkled with Johnsons and Ericksons from Protestant Scandinavia and the Luchesi and Spolgetti families have their names on the Lutheran Church roster. . . . Upper Peninsulans come out of the cultural mixmaster somewhat differently than their cousins in downstate Michigan. Many are reconciled to less income as the cost of more leisurely living. Although they get less schooling, they have fewer dropouts. While they are mostly ruralites, they don't so regard themselves because there isn't the sharp cleavage between the country and the city in the Upper Peninsula." — Jean Worth, retired editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

"There is room enough in this broad land above the Straits of Mackinac for a man to hunt all day without seeing another soul, which is something that can hardly be said for the rest of Michigan. And the field and streams, the forests and lakes are near enough to everyone so that none need waste time getting to and from his hunting and fishing. There is something else that is very special about this wonderful hunting and fishing country. That is its rugged beauty, the quiet splendor of its wilderness. . . . This is what I love about the hunting and fishing in the Upper Peninsula. This and the chance perhaps to catch a glimpse of a moose, a fisher, lynx, a marten or even a timber wolf — all creatures that are found nowhere else in Michigan. This and the chance to see the northern lights, to smell the woods in autumn or to hear a loon on a lonely lake." — Kenneth S. Lowe, editor, Marquette Mining Journal.

The comments are just a few of those in the magazine about the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan's state motto is "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look about you."

That holds for the Upper Peninsula, too.

Peninsula Potpourri

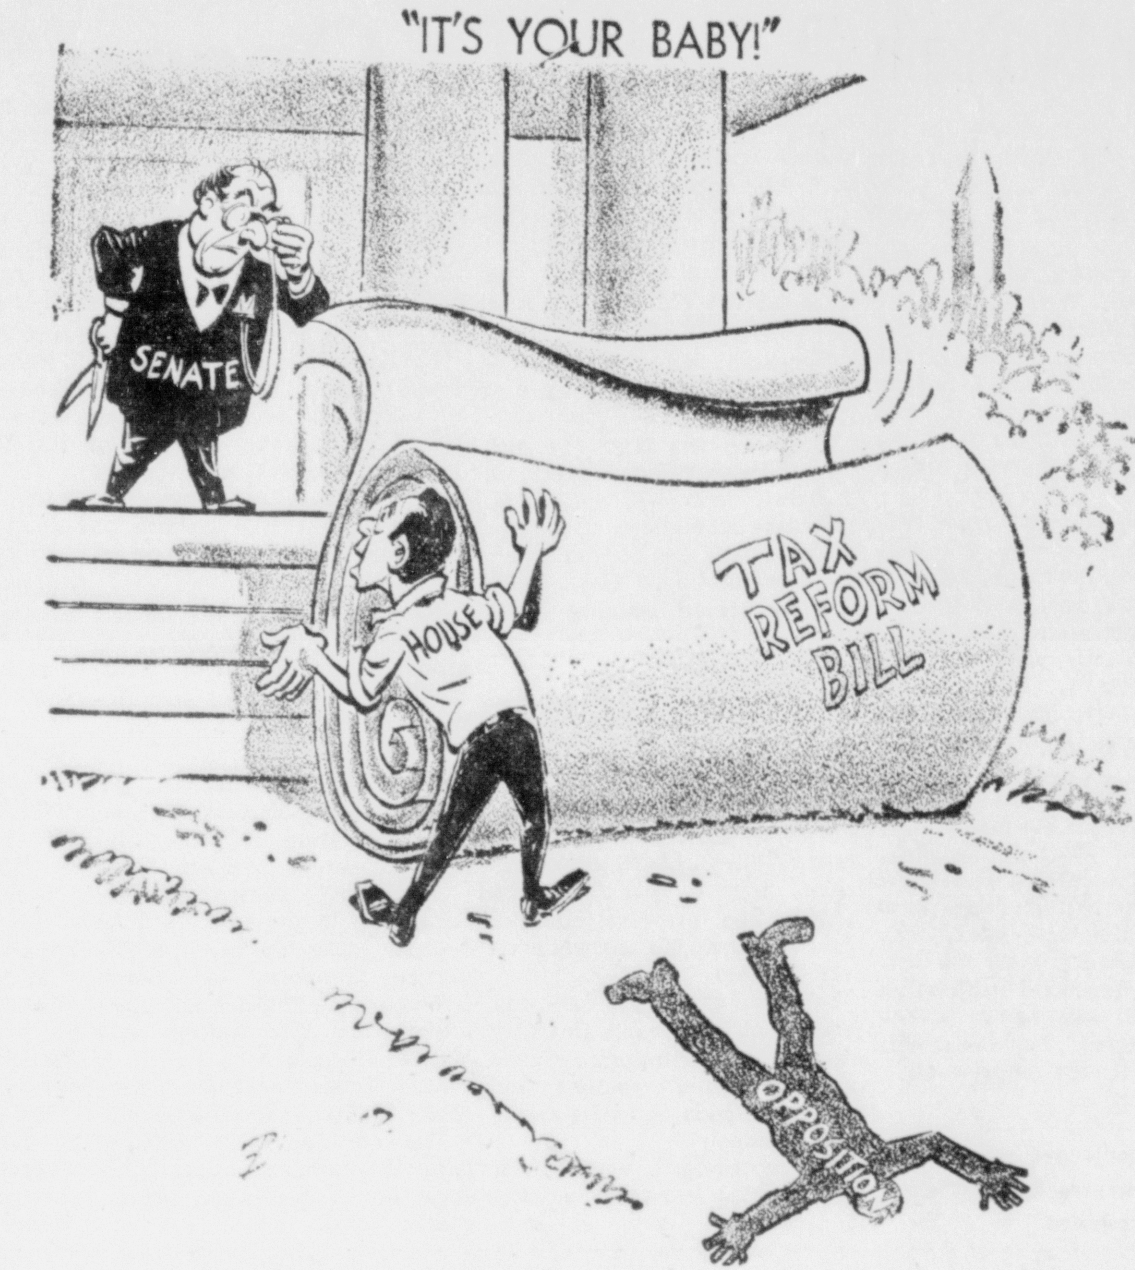

Karin Ronnqvist of Umea, Sweden, has been a guest of Mary Monson, West Iron County high school sophomore, this summer at Iron River. The two girls began corresponding as "pen pals" four years ago.

Nine breaking and enterings in the St. Ignace area were solved by police with the arrest of two 13-year-old boys. Officers recovered about $2,000 in property, part of the loot taken by the boys who were cited to Probate Court.

Robert Eck, a member of the Iron Mountain High School Class of 1949, pedaled a bicycle 275 miles to attend the 20th reunion. He rode 200 miles from East Lansing to Frankfort where he boarded the ferry to Menominee, then pedaled the remaining 75 miles to Iron Mountain.

An international ski tournament to be sponsored in February by the International Federation of Skiing at the new Copper Peak ski flying hill near Ironwood is expected to attract some 30,000 visitors to the area, the Wakefield Chamber of Commerce has been informed. The tournament is scheduled the last week in February.

A survey of sturgeon in the Menominee River between the White Rapids dam and the Grand Rapids dam yielded 186 of the fish in four days of shocking. Largest was 69 inches long and weighed 82 pounds. The smallest was five inches long and weighed a few ounces. Open season on sturgeon runs from Sept. 6 to Nov. 1. Minimum size is 42 inches and the bag limit is two. Some nice walleyes and bass also turned up during the Department of Natural Resources operation.

Two-Platoon Peace Program Suggested

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Several years ago a former lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Air Force, Howard Kurtz, came to me with his idea of a "two-platoon strategy" for enforcing world peace.

Part One of his proposal was to turn over all offensive nuclear weapons to a world peace-keeping organization. But, just to make sure that the world body would not become an engine of tyranny on its own—an Orwellian 1984 "Big Brother" monstrosity — Kurtz suggested leaving all defensive weapons in the hands of the separate nations.

The double-barrelled proposition impressed me as Utopian but interesting, and I wrote a column about it that attempted to blend sympathy and skepticism. The trouble with the Kurtz idea, at the time he first offered it, was that no good defense against nuclear attack seemed possible. Thus the proposal to let each nation keep control of its defense to circumvent any propensity to tyranny on the part of a world offensive monopoly was essentially meaningless.

Undeterred by objections, however, Kurtz and his wife, the Rev. Harriet B. Kurtz, have been busy through the past few years talking up their project through the medium of their War Control Planners, Inc., of Chappaqua, N. Y.

When they speak of "the collapse of U. S. Global Strategy," they make sense. Our theory of power has become useless because we don't dare use even the small, almost infinitesimal, part of that power represented by tactical nuclear weapons. Every foreign office in the world knows us for the bluffers that we are. Luckily for us, every astute diplomat knows that the Soviets are bluffing, too. Nobody in Washington or Moscow dares suggest pulling even the smallest nuclear tactical trigger. The two cats have been belled, so the mice play everywhere.

Kurtz puts it well when he says "the theory of power has collapsed. Danger has become global and total. It is as though the people of all nations are crowded into a single gas-filled room. The explosive continues to pour into the room. . . . in this pre-explosive atmosphere, obsolete commanders on both sides threaten to strike matches to 'deter' each other. . . . boasting of the righteousness of their postures because the room has not yet blown up."

A totally new, unprecedented concept of strategic power and strategic initiative is imperative. There is no possible way the sinking national security can be regained by the open-ended escalation of the power to exterminate humanity. Similarly, there is no possible way the national security can be regained by turning weak in the face of an enemy bent upon world domination.

What Kurtz has sketched is not a solution but a dilemma. His "two-platoon" idea of setting up a world monopoly of offensive nuclear power and letting the separate nations keep control of their own defensive armaments is still too vague in its outlines, too Utopian in its hopes.

Red China, for instance, is not going to pool its offensive nuclear capabilities with those of other nations in a "global armed force management system." Best for the first time since the mushroom cloud rose over Hiroshima, a "two-platoon" solution along the Kurtz lines is becoming theoretically possible.

The extent to which the "two-platoon" idea might be made palatable to the U. S. and to Soviet Russia depends entirely on the practicability of creating effective anti-ballistic missile systems. If it were once proved possible to track down and kill an offensive nuclear missile, whether carrying multiple warheads or not, before it had arrived within dangerous proximity of a target area, then the big members of the nuclear club could afford to yield control of their offensive weapons to a UN Safety Authority. The "two-platoon" division between offense and defense would become diplomatically acceptable.

Most of our pacifists have been against anti-ballistic missile experimentation and deployment. For the life of me, I can't discover any logic or

Kelley Asked To Rule On Length Of School Year

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has been asked to rule whether school districts may put off until 1970 compliance with a 1967 law requiring 180-day school terms regardless of teacher strikes or conferences.

James F. O'Neill, Livonia Republica, treasurer of the State Board of Education asked Kelley Wednesday to give an opinion on the legality of half-day classes in some districts.

O'Neill, in his request to Kelley, said some districts are doing this now. He called it "discriminatory" and said "it does not provide either quality education or equal education opportunity."

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley and the board, O'Neill said, agreed Tuesday that compliance with the law might be put off until 1970 despite holding earlier this year that local boards do not have the option of providing less than 180 days of instruction at the risk of losing proportionate state aid.

Bill To Change Election Laws

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Frank Wierzbicki, D-Detroit, says he will introduce a bill package next year to change election laws.

Included in the representative's program would be a resolution calling for ballot designations of all candidates.

Other proposals would: —Raise filing fee from $100 to $200, with fee refunded to nominated candidates. —Prohibit candidates from withdrawing after the filing deadline. —Prevent candidates from filing for more than one office. —Prohibit persons with names similar to announced candidates to file for the same office to confuse the voter.

Warden Retires

JACKSON (AP) — George Kropp, 60, the warden of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson retires Sept. 1 after more than 40 years in state corrections work.

common sense in their thinking. It would be the biggest boon in the world for the peacemakers if a successful ABM could be developed. It would make Kurtz's ingenious "two-platoon" idea negotiable.

Letters Like These Make Life Rosier

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life would be rosier if the postman brought more letters like these: "Remember Joe Jimcrack, the guy who beat you out by three votes when our high school graduating class was selecting the one most likely to succeed."

"Well, it seems like he has been in nothing but trouble ever since he started passing those bad checks. Recently he had most of his teeth knocked out in a brawl in a low dive on Elm Street. Some of his old classmates are taking up a collection to buy him a set of false teeth so he'll at least look respectable at the 25th reunion of our class next spring."

"Shall I put you down for a buck?"

"The results of your annual physical examination are now in. As your doctor, I must say you are a medical marvel for a man your age."

"You have the heartbeat of a college athlete. Your lungs are clear; your liver and kidneys are A-plus; there are no signs of ulcer; your musculature can only be described as fabulous. You are in such good shape that I even believe your hair is growing back in."

"No, I see no reason for you to go on a diet or take special exercises. You are free to eat or drink anything you want."

"Elmer, I want you to take charge of the office during my trip to Europe. Confidentially, I'm considering early retirement, and on my return I'll probably turn over the keys to my desk to you permanently."

"There is one unpleasant chore I'd like you to do. I want you to hand his walking papers to Frank Climber, our third vice president. He spends so much time scheming to get the jobs of better men that his own work has slipped badly."

The bidding:

Opening lead—three of diamonds.

Good defense requires active thinking for the best results to be achieved. You can't play mechanically and also expect to do well on defense. You must try to reconstruct and reconcile all the bids and plays that have been made, so that you can reach a conclusion on how the cards are distributed, and then follow this with the best method of defense.

Here is atypical case where East encounters two problems on defense, both of which he must solve correctly to defeat the contract.

West leads a diamond against three spades and East runs into his first problem when declarer follows low from dummy. East must decide whether to play the ten or the ace, and this question cannot be satisfactorily answered without considering the diamond holdings West may have.

It is clear from the lead of the three (his fourth best) that West has bid two diamonds on a four-card suit, which means that South has a doubleton. If West's diamonds are headed by the K-J, East should play the ten, but if West has K-9-x-x, East should play the ace. Also, if West has J-9-x-x, East should play the ten in order to hold declarer to one diamond trick.

This last possibility should be ruled out because West was unlikely to have voluntarily bid a four-card suit headed by the jack. As between the other two possibilities, East cannot be 100% sure, but the ace play is strongly indicated.

East's play at trick two is also strongly indicated. He should return the three of clubs! This starting play is based on the assumption that West has the king of diamonds and the hope that he also has the ten of clubs.

As a result, South goes down one. But if East fails to return the club at trick two, declarer has time to establish a diamond trick for the club discard and he eventually makes the contract.

Ann Landers

Man Has A Point, Hat Should Hide It

Dear Ann Landers: Why don't you level with the men who write? Tell them they are crazy to get married before they are 35. Then if they have any brains they should choose a chick who is at least ten years younger than themselves. If they can get one 15 years younger, better yet.

I made the usual crazy mistake. I got married straight out of college at 22 before I knew what life was all about. The bride was 22 also — my childhood sweetheart. Another stupid mistake. We kept our home together until the kids were out of high school. Then it cost me $50,000 plus the house to unload the old tomato. But it was worth it.

I passed a petition around the office today. It read: "I agree that all wives should be shot when they reach 40." Every married man in the office over 30 signed it. Doesn't this prove that I have a point?—Henry VIII

Dear Henry: Yes, you have a point, but maybe if you wear a hat nobody will notice it. Every now and then I get a letter from a middle-aged nut like you who mistakes a slow-up in his sex drive for the death rattle. He's so afraid people will think he's over the hill that he takes up with a babe half his age. After a year he's ready to trade in his dancing shoes for house slippers.

All you old gaffers out there who think a wife should be shot when she reaches 40 had better save the last bullet for yourselves.

Dear Ann Landers: Doctors who prescribe medication and reissue prescriptions without learning what the side effects do to certain patients are no better than criminals who sell dope.

In less than three months a close relative changed from a charming, delightful person to a vulgar, overbearing talking machine, and tranquilizers did it. When one bottle is gone she gets another. All she has to do is ask the doctor for a reorder. This woman used to get along with everyone. Suddenly she started to argue with salespeople and neighbors as well as family and friends. Now it seems every time I am in her company she tells somebody off.

What has happened to medical ethics? Shouldn't this be one of our major concerns?—Outraged and Indignant

Dear Out and In: I assure you the doctor has nothing to gain if his patient eats pills like popcorn. The druggist is the one who makes the profit. Yes, it would be wonderful if all doctors could see their patients often enough to detect personality changes, but this is impossible. It is the responsibility of the patient or a relative of the patient to inform the doctor of radical behavioral changes. Has someone in your family thought to do this? If not, you should do it. What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Soldiers Raise Money To Help Biafran Alumnus

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An American soldier in Vietnam, who says that "All wars are senseless," has raised money from his GI buddies to help the family of fellow college alumnus in war-ravaged Biafra.

Pfc. John Badgerow of Sparta, a 1968 graduate of Aquinas College here, and members of his 327th Records Company in Vietnam responded with $67 when the college's alumni association sought aid for a Biafran alumnus.

The drive began when Akosa Ezenobi, a 1951 Aquinas graduate with a law degree from Oxford, wrote his old classmates for help in his family's struggle to survive the war which has shattered his homeland.

Badgerow said in a letter to the college's alumni office that, "all wars are senseless, the fighting between Biafra and Nigeria seems especially so. We hope our contribution will join the others in relieving the suffering among Mr. Ezenobi's people."

The funds collected in Vietnam brought total contributions for the Ezenobi Relief Fund to more than $900.

Fair Beef Show Has 'New' Look

The Open Class beef show at the Upper Peninsula State Fair this year has a new look. Three herds of registered competition, the first short-horned entered in the U.P. Fair in many years, according to Henry Wylie of Escanaba, assistant superintendent.

Wylie said the U.P. Fair used to have a division of the beef

'Mad Bowman' Loose At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE — The number of reports of arrow shootings by a "mad bowman" in the Soo area swelled to four recently as two new complaints were reported to State Police at the Soo.

According to officers, someone shot an arrow through a window of one residence, and another man reported to troopers that someone fired an arrow into his trailer.

Earlier this week, Chippewa County Sheriff Roy Guest and local State Troopers reported that someone shot a cow in the hip. The arrow was broken in the hind quarter, and was discovered when the animal was brought in for milking, police said.

State Police said that they found four broadhead hunting arrows in the pasture where the cow was wounded. Officers commented that the "mad bowman" is obviously a bad shot.

The other incident occurred when a local resident reported to Troopers that someone shot an arrow through the large picture window on his house. Police said the arrow was a field or target type, and that it smashed through the window, passed through the drapes and imbedded itself in the opposite wall.

Three Killed In Plane Crash

QUANICASSIE (AP) — Three Michigan residents died Friday when their single-engine Cessna 182 crashed in an isolated duck marsh near Quanicassie, a village about eight miles east of Bay City.

Dead are Joseph E. Jordan, 59, of Munde Township near Flint, who piloted the plane; Catherine M. Smith, 56, of Yule; and Clara Ann Hazelton, 48, also of Yule.

Cause of the accident was not immediately determined. The plane reportedly suffered no mechanical failure. Police said an autopsy would be conducted on the body of the pilot to determine if medical reasons were involved.

Mrs. William Plum, who witnessed the crash, said the four-seat plane was flying abnormally low, although she wasn't surprised because crop-dusters had been common in the area lately.

However, the plane failed to rise after circling six or seven times and although there were no disruptions in the plane's engine, it crashed into the deserted swamp area, the Quanicassie State Game Preserve.

"I saw this big splash of water and the plane flipping end over end," she said.

She, her husband and a friend, Orville J. Butler, went out in a small boat to the scene. She said they found Jordan in the plane. The two women were several hundred yards away, floating face-down in the water.

Mrs. O. Swanson Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Oliver (Frances M.) Swanson, 53, of 617 S. 14th St. died suddenly at 5:30 a. m. today at Mercy Hospital in Janesville, Wis. She was born in Escanaba, Dec. 3, 1915 and was a member of the Bethany Lutheran Church.

She is survived by her husband, Oliver of Escanaba; three sons, Oliver Jr. of Janesville, Wis., Kenneth serving with the U. S. Air Force and Gerald of Escanaba; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Barbara) Pearlberg of Marquette and Mrs. Dwight (Katherine) Gilroy of Flint and one grandchild, two brothers, Charles Oslund Jr. of Groos and Richard of Cedarville and one sister, Mrs. Charles Zella of Lake Orion, Mich.; also her mother, Mrs. Ida Oslund of Escanaba.

The body has been removed to the Anderson Funeral Home where funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time.

Police Disturb Beautiful View

"The view was beautiful," reported two Escanaba young men to city police when they were ordered down from the top of the city water tower last night.

"They said they could see all over Escanaba," officers noted in their report.

Charged with being disorderly, the view will no doubt be less attractive when Bruce C. Virgo, 24, 307 S. 17th St., and George E. Hansen, 23, Escanaba, are in court.

The top of the water tower is 135 feet above the ground. The area is fenced and trespassers must climb over.

to annex the Protestant-controlled northern state, mobilized 2,000 army reserves for use in a proposed international peace-keeping force.

Dublin's foreign minister, Dr. Patrick Hillery, met with British Foreign Office officials in London but said his proposals for a U.N. or British-Irish peace force were given a "courteous brushoff."

Internal Matter

Britain maintains the unrest in Northern Ireland is an internal matter and no business of the Irish Republic or the United Nations.

Prime Minister James Callaghan-Clark of Northern Ireland insisted that his government would not consider any suggestion that the two Irelands be reunited under the Dublin government.

"Let me make this clear," he said, "the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland governments stand together in their complete determination that we will not be forced out of the United Kingdom against our will. In the last resort, our enemies face not only the determination of Ulster (Northern Ireland) but the might of Britain."

ing new threat far out in the Atlantic.

Boats Warned

Debbie was nearly 900 miles east of the Lesser Antilles, where the Atlantic meets the Caribbean Sea, but forecaster Neil Frank noted that "her footprints are on a very familiar path of previous August storms which have struck Florida."

Boaters along the entire Florida West Coast and around the curving Gulf shore to Alabama were advised to remain close to safe harbors as Camille approached.

Camille, the most intense hurricane since Beulah ravaged the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas in 1967, dumped more than 10 inches of rain on Cuba's Isle of Pines, Radio Havana reported.

Civil defense workers rushed farmers on that island and in Rio del Pinar Province in extreme western Cuba to higher ground.

Evacuation

"Hundreds of people have been evacuated from the lowlands of south Pinar del Rio, mainly in La Coloma and Alonso Rojas areas," said the broadcast monitored in Miami.

Rescue brigades were trucked into the storm-battered areas and, said the official voice of Fidel Castro's government, "neon signs and other obstacles have been withdrawn."

The hurricane slammed into the island with 115 m.p.h. winds thrashing the heartland of Cuba's tobacco crop at the height of harvest.

Five Hospitalized After Accident

Five persons remained hospitalized today — four in Escanaba and one in Marquette — after being injured in a traffic accident about 9:45 p.m. Friday.

Details on the extent of their injuries were not immediately available.

Patients at St. Francis Hospital are Edward Johnson, 27, Rapid River; Dorothy Hakola, 58, Herman McDonald, 55, and Wilma McDonald, 59, all of Rudyard. Arvie Hakola, 51, also of Rudyard, was taken to St. Francis Hospital and later transferred to St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

State Police said a car driven by Johnson struck the rear of a trailer being pulled behind a car driven by Nolar Ridner, 50, of Monroe, on US-2 about three tenths of a mile west of County Rd. 428 in Masonville Township.

Officers said Johnson's car then crossed the centerline and collided with a westbound car driven by Hakola. Dorothy Hakola and the McDonalds were passengers in that car.

All of the injured were taken to the hospital by ambulance, troopers reported. Johnson was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law.

State Police also ticketed Blake Cowen, 20, of 1121 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, for careless driving after his car ran off County Rd. 426 about six tenths of a mile south of the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad crossing. Cowan, who was not injured, told troopers he fell asleep at the wheel. The accident happened about 1:45 a.m. Friday.

Fair Beef Show Has 'New' Look

The Open Class beef show at the Upper Peninsula State Fair this year has a new look.

Three herds of registered competition, the first short-horns entered in the U.P. Fair in many years, according to Henry Wylie of Escanaba, assistant superintendent.

Wylie said the U.P. Fair used to have a division of the beef show for short-horns, but because of the lack of entries short-horns were grouped this year with all other beef breeds except herefords, for which there is a separate division.

With the return of the short-horns, he said, officials will recommend that a short-horn department be reestablished next year.

More Next Year

Short-horn herds were entered by Allan Sly of Ontonagon, William Hale of Dafter and Jack Turner and his son, Randall, of Dafter. Hale and the Turners are new to the Upper Peninsula, moving to Chippewa County last spring from lower Michigan.

"We hope to have a larger entry here next year," Jack Turner said.

Grey Knaus, department superintendent, said the open class beef show this year is larger and of "better" quality than last year. About 46 registered herefords, 46 grade herefords, 17 registered short-horns and a single red angus bull were entered in the competition.

William Hale of Hale Farms had the grand and junior champion short-horn bulls, while the reserve and senior champion short-horn bulls were shown by Sly. Hale Farms swept honors in the female division, winning grand, reserve, senior and junior champion-ship.

LaMarche Wins

Edward LaMarche, Rte. 1, Escanaba, dominated the registered hereford division, sweeping all four female division championships and winning the reserve champion bull honors.

In the hereford female grade group, Ray Erickson of Carney won grand and senior championships, while Rose Ann Rocchetti of Norway grabbed reserve and junior champion ribbons.

The red angus bull, a first for the Upper Peninsula State Fair, was entered by Clark and Jane Chandler of Houghton.

Boats Warned

Debbie was nearly 900 miles east of the Lesser Antilles, where the Atlantic meets the Caribbean Sea, but forecaster Neil Frank noted that "her footprints are on a very familiar path of previous August storms which have struck Florida."

Boaters along the entire Florida West Coast and around the curving Gulf shore to Alabama were advised to remain close to safe harbors as Camille approached.

Camille, the most intense hurricane since Beulah ravaged the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas in 1967, dumped more than 10 inches of rain on Cuba's Isle of Pines, Radio Havana reported.

Civil defense workers rushed farmers on that island and in Rio del Pinar Province in extreme western Cuba to higher ground.

Evacuation

"Hundreds of people have been evacuated from the lowlands of south Pinar del Rio, mainly in La Coloma nd Alonso Rojas areas," said the broadcast monitored in Miami.

Rescue brigades were trucked into the storm-battered areas and, said the official voice of Fidel Castro's government, "neon signs and other obstacles have been withdrawn."

The hurricane slammed into the island with 115 m.p.h. winds thrashing the heartland of Cuba's tobacco crop at the height of harvest.

Five Hospitalized After Accident

Five persons remained hospitalized today — four in Escanaba and one in Marquette — after being injured in a traffic accident about 9:45 p.m. Friday.

Details on the extent of their injuries were not immediately available.

Patients at St. Francis Hospital are Edward Johnson, 27, Rapid River; Dorothy Hakola, 58, Herman McDonald, 55, and Wilma McDonald, 59, all of Rudyard. Arvie Hakola, 51, also of Rudyard, was taken to St. Francis Hospital and later transferred to St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

State Police said a car driven by Johnson struck the rear of a trailer being pulled behind a car driven by Nolar Ridner, 50, of Monroe, on US-2 about three tenths of a mile west of County Rd. 426 in Masonville Township.

Officers said Johnson's car then crossed the centerline and collided with a westbound car driven by Hakola. Dorothy Hakola and the McDonalds were passengers in that car.

All of the injured were taken to the hospital by ambulance, troopers reported. Johnson was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law.

State Police also ticketed Blake Cowen, 20, of 1121 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, for careless driving after his car ran off County Rd. 426 about six tenths of a mile south of the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad crossing. Cowan, who was not injured, told troopers he fell asleep at the wheel. The accident happened about 1:45 a.m. Friday.

Floyd Holds Lead At Halfway Mark Of PGA Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An early bogey set off the spark that launched Ray Floyd into the halfway lead in the 51st PGA Championship.

"I think the key to my round was a bogey," the handsome 26-year-old bachelor said Friday after he added a five-under-par 66 to an opening 69 for a 36-hole total of 135.

Floyd, who owns two tour victories, was seven-under-par for two trips and carried a shaky one-stroke advantage over charging Gary Player into today's third round test.

Still in hot pursuit only two strokes back was Bunky Henry, the former Georgia Tech place-kicker who carded a 68 for a 137.

Three In Fourth

Big Jack Nicklaus, always menacing, posted a 68 and was in a three-way knot at 138 along with U.S. Open champ Orville Moody, who also shot 68, and 31-year-old Don Bies, who electrified the gallery of 18,135 with a sizzling seven-under-par 64, a course record.

Bies, 60th on the money list with winnings of $20,000, started with a double bogey six when he three-putted from 15 feet, but then completely mastered the tricky 6,915-yard NCR layout with a barrage of nine birdies that sliced 10 strokes off his opening round.

The Seattle golfer, playing his first full year on the tour, registered his birds on Nos. 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13 and 16.

Earlier Record

Player, the little South African health fadist bidding for his second PGA conquest, had set the course record before Bies even teed off with a hot 65. He had an opening 71.

"I putted very, very well. These are the finest two rounds I've played this year," he said.

Player, who discarded his traditional black attire "because I like to wear pastel shades when it gets very hot," bogeyed two of his first three holes. He two-putted from six feet on No. 1 and missed a two-footer on No. 3.

He managed a birdie on the second hole and then ripped off birds on Nos. 6, 8, 12, 14, 15, 17 and 18. His longest putt was a 30-footer on No. 8.

Floyd Irritable

Floyd, who has won at Jacksonville and Akron, said he was very irritable at the start of his round, possibly because he didn't sleep well the night before.

He missed a bird by two-putting from three feet on the second hole and missed another three-footer for a bogey on No. 3.

"That made the difference," he said and the fire got started. I told myself I was going to get moving when I left that green."

He rolled in a 15-footer for a birdie on the next hole and dropped in a two-foot putt for another bird on No. 5. Then the husky pro from North Carolina boomed a long drive and a four-wood three feet from the pin, holding out for an eagle on the 348-yard No. 6, longest hole on the course.

Hot Putter

Floyd, who describes himself as a "mediocre putter," rammed in a 40-footer for a bird on No. 8, also birdied No. 10 with a three-footer and No. 16 with a putt on 15 feet.

His only other bogey came on the 15th when he trapped his second shot and missed a 10-foot putt.

"I want to be known as a good player," Floyd insisted, "not as a good putter."

Henry, who had four birdies and one bogey, said good putts saved his round.

"I didn't miss any short ones and I didn't three-putt."

Nicklaus, who scrambled from tree to tree on the tight fairways, had six birds and three bogeys.

Big Names

British Open king Tony Jacklin shot a 70 for 143; leading money-winner Frank Beard had a 75 for 145; defending champion Julius Boros a 74 for 146 and Masters titlist George Archer 74 for 149, barely surviving the halfway cut.

One familiar name missing was that of Arnold Palmer. The Pennsylvania millionaire, who skied a half hour before he was to play Friday because of a painful hip.

Palmer headed home for rest and treatment amid speculation that his brilliant career could be over.

Mead Defeated By 5-3 Margin

MARQUETTE — Mead Paper Co. of the Escanaba Softball Association fell by the wayside last night in their opening game of the U. P. Class C softball tournament in a 5-3 loss to the Hillcrest Dairy of Marquette.

Hillcrest jumped off to an early lead and Mead scored single runs in the first, fourth and seventh innings. Doug Marceau got credit for the victory, scattering five hits.

In last night's only other game, Chassell Green Light Bar bombed Selin's of Iron River 11-1. Marty Logan struck out 11 Iron River batsmen in picking up the victory.

Eleven games are on tap today beginning at noon and eleven more will be played on Sunday, with the championship game slated to get underway at 7:30 Sunday evening.

Dodger Bats Break Loose In 9-2 Romp Of Montreal

By The Associated Press
The Guns of August showed up in disguise. Who'd ever expect to find them in Los Angeles Dodger uniforms?

But the Dodger offense—usually limited to a walk, a stolen base, an infield out and a sacrifice fly—broke loose with some thunder Friday night. Andy Kosco, Bill Sudakis and Willie Davis all walloped home runs and Willie Crawford drove in three runs with a pair of singles, leading Los Angeles to a 9-2 romp over Montreal.

The Dodger thunder was nothing compared to what went on in Atlanta.

A heavy storm forced a three-hour delay of the St. Louis-Atlanta game in the first inning. When play resumed, Ron Reed, who had retired the Cards in order in the first, continued to sail through the St. Louis order. He set down 15 straight batters before allowing a hit and finished with a 8-2 victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia shut out Houston 1-0, Pittsburgh rapped Cincinnati 5-1 and San Francisco shut out Chicago 3-0. San Diego's game at New York was postponed by rain.

Just to insure that their image stayed intact, the Dodgers got three stolen bases, two by Maury Wills. But there was the unmistakable power image in the late-inning homers. Kosco and Sudakis both connected in the seventh and Davis in the ninth.

The Dodgers broke the game open with a four-run fourth inning with Crawford driving in two of the runs on a single.

Indians Trip Angels On Cardenal Heroics

By The Associated Press
When Jose Cardenal was a San Francisco farmhand, the baseball experts liked to compare him to Willie Mays.

Friday night in Anaheim, Jose looked like the spitting image of the illustrious Giant center fielder.

First, he made a circus catch of Sandy Alomar's long drive to deep centerfield with two on and two out in the eleventh inning. Then, for an encore, he planted a Hoyt Wilhelm pitch into the left field seats in the 12th inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory over the California Angels.

Elsewhere in the American League, Oakland downed Detroit 4-0; Minnesota blanked Washington 2-0; Baltimore edged Seattle 2-1; the Yankees nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and Cleveland topped California 2-1 in 12 innings. Boston was rained out at Kansas City.

In National League play, Los Angeles drubbed Montreal 9-2; Philadelphia squeezed past Houston 1-0; Pittsburgh whipped Cincinnati 5-1; Atlanta slugged St. Louis 8-2 and San Francisco zipped the Chicago Cubs 3-0. The New York Mets and San Diego were rained out.

To make matters even sweeter for Cardenal, he used to patrol the outfield for the Angels before being shipped off to Cleveland in November of 1967. Until Cardenal's late-inning performance, there were several candidates for the hero's mantle. Sam McDowell worked nine steady innings, yielding a run and eight hits. But his fastball was working overtime and he sent 11 Angels down on strikes to run his season's total of 201, tops in the American League.

But he met his match in Rudy May of the Angels. May wound up with his second straight three-hitter but he, too, departed after nine innings.

The victory finally went to rookie Ron Law, 3-1, who gave up only one hit over the final three innings. Wilhelm is now 2-7.

Jim Perry, 14-5, and reliever Ron Perranoski combined to blank the Senators while two of Rich Reese's three singles figured in both Minnesota runs. Reese, who cracked four hits in his previous start, extended the string to seven in a row before flying out in the seventh.

Mike Cuellar, 16-9, scattered six hits and Paul Blair scored the deciding run on a short sacrifice fly by Boog Powell in the fifth inning as the high-flying Orioles surged to their ninth triumph in 10 games.

Blair singled, raced to third on a single by Frank Robinson and beat the throw to the plate, breaking a 1-1 tie, after second baseman John Donaldson caught Powell's pop in short right with his back to the plate.

Fritz Peterson, 13-12, checked the White Sox on six hits, pacing the Yankees to their 11th victory in the last 13 games. Bobby Cox homered for New York and Roy White doubled home the winning run in the sixth.

Strategy Backfires As Tigers Lose 4-0

OAKLAND (AP) — "These things sometimes happen in baseball," Detroit Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said philosophically after his strategy of walking a .196 hitter to get to a pitcher backfired.

And the sound that erupted was a crack of that bat by Oakland Athletics' pitcher Lew Krause that produced a three-run homer. To Smith, it must have seemed as loud as a Saturn rocket heading into orbit.

Krause expanded his 1-0 lead Friday night with the homer in the seventh to pace his light-hitting teammates to a 4-0 victory Friday night over the Tigers.

Krause's homer broke up a tight pitching duel with Tiger lefty Mickey Lolich, who gave up only six hits in the seven innings he pitched.

Krause's homer, came after Manager Smith ordered an intentional walk for Oakland catcher Dave Duncan, who entered the game with a .196 batting average.

With two out, a man on second and a 3-0 count on Duncan, Smith ordered a fourth ball.

"Lolich got behind in the count to Duncan. That's when he got the intentional walk. We didn't figure that Krause would hit the homer."

But Krause, who boasted an .096 batting average, got his fourth homer of the season, which is twice as many as he hit in his first five seasons in the majors.

"That's 46 homers for Reggie and me," Krause said.

Bob Veale pitched a six-hitter, tagging the Reds with their fourth loss in the last five games. Dick Dietz and Willie Mays ripped home runs, backing Juan Marichal's four-hit pitching as the Giants beat the Cubs. It was Mays' 10th homer of the year, 597th of his career and his first since June 21.

Defensive end Mark Stoll, a Michigan State sophomore, is the son of Cal Stoll, former Spartan assistant and new head coach at Wake Forest.

Simpson's Pro Debut Spoiled As Lions Notch 24-12 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — That new kid from Buffalo, O.J. Simpson, has learned what it's like to watch from the sidelines, thinking without saying — "me coach, put me in."

Simpson, who led Southern California to all kinds of glory during the past three years, appeared briefly Friday in his first game as a professional football player. Another relatively new sensation for the newest member of the Buffalo Bills is losing. The Lions dropped the Bills 24-12.

"It was kind of tough standing on the sidelines," Simpson said after the game. "I'm not used to that."

"I know we'll be contenders. I like to win and so do the other guys," added the Heisman trophy winner who singled out reserve quarterback James Harris for a compliment on passing accuracy.

Catches Pass
Harris hit Simpson in the fourth period with a 38-yard pass which set up the Bills' second touchdown. With less than two minutes left Harris pitched to Bill Enyard after the long Simpson pass and the ball rested on the 14-yard line. The rookie quarterback from Grambling turned to Enyard again for the touchdown pass.

Buffalo's first touchdown, in the first period, came on the play after Simpson first entered the game, apparently as a decoy. Simpson, who signed a three-year pact for a reported $300,000 after a long holdout, commanded much of the attention of the 34,000 customers when he entered midway through the period.

Lions Score
However, quarterback Tom Flores sent Simpson on a 20-yard scamper to one side of the end zone and hit wide receiver Haven Moses with a 20-yard touchdown pass in the other corner.

Rookie kicker Roy Gerela apparently had won the game for Houston with 37 seconds left by booting a 23-yard field goal. But with three seconds left Morrall faded back and threw to Richardson, who caught the ball on the 20 and dashed over for the winning TD as time ran out.

Baltimore had taken an early 21-0 lead before the Oilers caught fire and staged a dramatic rally that seemingly had won the game until the Morrall to Richardson bomb.

The Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers tangled tonight at Milwaukee in a game that will be nationally televised by CBS. In tonight's other games, Pittsburgh and St. Louis clash at Norfolk, Va.; Cincinnati and Kansas City meet at Jackson, Miss.; Philadelphia is at Miami; New Orleans at Denver; Cleveland at Los Angeles; and Oakland at San Diego.

On Sunday the New York Jets and the New York Giants collided at New Haven, Conn.; Atlanta is at Boston and Dallas at San Francisco.

Mixed Couples League Results

Betty Goulais and Leo LaCrosse teamed up to take first place honors in the Friday night Mixed Couples event at the Escanaba Country Club with a net 32.

Entrants played a best-ball tournament and had to draw for partners. Finishing in second place were Betty Rolig and Dick Knoll and Ruth Owen and Jack Jack Magnuson, each team coming in with a net 33.

Low scorers for the ladies were Ruth Owen and Betty Gauthier with 49's and Marilyn Knoll with a 51. The men were paced by Jack Magnuson with a 36, Bob Turner 38 and Ollie Christiansen 41.

Morrall's Pass Wins For Colts

Veteran quarterback Earl Morrall was the hero of the night Friday, as he threw a 58-yard touchdown pass to Willie Richardson as time ran out to give Baltimore a 33-29 exhibition victory over Houston.

Morrall's bomb turned an apparent defeat into the Colts' third straight exhibition pro football victory against no defeats.

In the only other game, Detroit overran Buffalo 24-12.

The two games kicked off another busy 12-game weekend exhibition schedule for the pros. Seven games are scheduled tonight and three Sunday afternoon.

Tidewater Back In Pennant Race

The Tidewater Tides, with the resiliency of youth, have bounced back into the running in the International League race.

A 5-2, 6-2 sweep of the Buffalo Bisons Friday night boosted the Tides into sole occupancy of third place just 1 1/2 games back of the Columbus Jets, who dropped a 4-0 decision to the Syracuse Chiefs.

The Jets' lead over second-place Louisville was cut to half a game by their second straight defeat as the Colonels knocked off the Toledo Mud Hens 6-4. The Richmond Braves outlasted the Rochester Red Wings 4-3 in 14 innings in the other game.

Their defeats dropped Toledo and Rochester into a fourth-place tie three games out of the league lead and just a game in front of Syracuse. Richmond's victory pulled the Braves into a seventh place tie with Buffalo.

Frank A. (Downey) Bonsal led Hialeah trainers last winter with 13 winners in 26 starts.

Central League Tourney Begins

Opening round games in the Central League softball tournament will get underway at two different sites Monday evening.

Perkins will play at Rock at 6:30 in one game while UAW 1432 will tangle with Bill's Bar at 7 at Gladstone followed by another game between Ensign and Marble Arms at 8:30.

On Wednesday evening the winner of the Perkins-Rock game will tangle with the winner of the UAW 1432-Bill's Bar game at 7:30 at Gladstone and the championship game on Sunday will pit the winner of the Ensign-Marble Arms game against the winner of game 4 at 1:30 p.m. at Perkins.

Schmidt Looks At Season With Optimistic Attitude

DETROIT (AP) — Since Detroit Lions' coach Joe Schmidt can't afford to be pessimistic, he is optimistic.

This is nothing new, however. He was optimistic last year when the Lions won three of their first five games and appeared ready to jell into a sound team despite an abundance of inexperienced players.

But they ended up last in the Central Division of the National Football League's Western Conference with a 4-8-2 record.

The talk is that unless Schmidt can come up with a winner this year, the former Lions' All-Pro linebacker may have the final two years of his contract bought up by team owner William Clay Ford.

Building Years
Detroit has been building during Schmidt's first two years at the helm. Running back Mel Farr was the NFL offensive rookie of the year in 1967 and cornerback Lem Barney was the defensive rookie of the year. Last year fleet-footed split end Earl McCulloch was chosen offensive rookie of the year and tight end Charlie Sanders wasn't far behind in the voting.

Farr and Nick Eddy give Detroit a fine 1-3 punch at running back if neither is bothered by last year's knee operations. Veterans Dave Kopyay and Bill Triplett add reliability to those two and rookie Altie Taylor is rated highly. He was the team's top draft choice and was a standout in the College All-Star game.

Top Receivers
McCulloch and Sanders are excellent receivers, along with 5-foot-10 veteran Billy Gambrell. There is plenty of depth in this category, with Phil Odle, rookie Johnny Wright, rookie Larry Walton, and Bill Malinchak all capable receivers.

But the key to the entire Lions' season will probably be quarterback Bill Munson. Great things were expected of him in his first year at Detroit last season after benchmarking at Los Angeles, but he did not live up to the billing. If he shakes the first-year adjustment blues he could make Detroit a winner.

Lions Troubles
Detroit's offensive line was a problem last year and this season may be no different. Big things are expected from sophomore more Rockne Freitas, but no one is sure of what to expect from the veterans. Also there is no depth here, but Schmidt is encouraged by early performance of rookie tackles Jim Carr and Jimmy Yarbrough.

Defensively the Lions are fairly sound. The front four of Larry Hand, Alex Karras, Jerry Grush and John Baker is experienced and tough. But there is a question where there are capable replacements in case of injury.

Top Linebackers
The linebackers are among the best anywhere. Wayne Walker, Mike Lucio and Paul Naumoff are all tough and talented.

A defensive backfield anchored by Barney is usually more than reliable. Eleven-year veteran Dick LeBeau is expected to come back after a poor season last year.

One trouble spot that may mean the difference between last place and a title is Detroit's kicking. Jerry DePoyster had trouble his rookie year last season kicking field goals. This year DePoyster and kicker Garo Yepremian are in the Army so either Walker, or recently acquired Errol Mann will be called upon in kicking situations.

Palmer in Arnie's disastrous opening round in the PGA championship here. "But he'll be back and win a lot of tournaments. He's too good a golfer to be stopped at his age."

Palmer, 39, plagued by a three-year-old hip injury and an extended slump, shot the worst round of his 15-year professional career—an 11-over-par 82—Thursday over the NCR Country Club course. Then he withdrew because of an aggravated hip injury and returned home for rest and medical treatment.

Indications are he will play no more competitive golf this year. Concern arose over whether this might be the end of the line for one of the sport's most successful and magnetic personalities.

The last few years have been frustrating for the great star who has won more than 60 tour tournaments, including four Masters, two British Opens and the U.S. Open, and boosted his official winnings to more than $1 million.

He hasn't won a major tournament since 1964. His last victory of any sort was the Kemper Open at Sutton, Mass., a year ago.

Gary Player of South Africa, who with Palmer and Jack Nicklaus forms the so-called "Big Three," suggested that in order to get back on top, Arnie must divest himself of outside distractions.

"He's a good physical specimen but he's allowed himself to get soft," said the little precisionist from Johannesburg. "He should put his business worries aside. He should jog, take exercise and practice until he is blue in the face."

Nicklaus said Palmer must work out his problems by himself.

"I think he's been playing too much, Jack added. "It's impossible to play as much as Arnie has and, with his other responsibilities, keep up his interest in winning tournaments. He's bound to lose concentration."

"But his golf has not deteriorated—he should be able to come back and play for years."

Simpson's Pro Debut Spoiled As Lions Notch 24-12 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — That new kid from Buffalo, O.J. Simpson, has learned what it's like to watch from the sidelines, thinking without saying — "me coach, put me in."

Simpson, who led Southern California to all kinds of glory during the past three years, appeared briefly Friday in his first game as a professional football player. Another relatively new sensation for the newest member of the Buffalo Bills is losing. The Lions dropped the Bills 24-12.

"It was kind of tough stand- ing on the sidelines," Simpson said after the game. "I'm not used to that."

"I know we'll be contenders. I like to win and so do the other guys," added the Heisman trophy winner who singled out reserve quarterback James Harris for a compliment on passing accuracy.

Catches Pass
Harris hit Simpson in the fourth period with a 38-yard pass which set up the Bill's second touchdown. With less than two minutes left Harris pitched to Bill Enyart after the long Simpson pass and the ball rested on the 14-yard line. The rookie quarterback from Grambling turned to Enyart again for the touchdown toss.

Buffalo's first touchdown, in the first period, came on the play after Simpson first entered the game, apparently as a decoy. Simpson, who signed a three-year pact for a reported $300,000 after a long holdout, commanded much of the attention of the 34,000 customers when he entered midway through the period.

Lions Score
However quarterback Tom Flores sent Simpson on a diversionary scamper to one side of the end zone and hit wide receiver Haven Moses with a 20-yard touchdown pass in the other corner.

completions, however, were for touchdowns.

Greg Landry, who relieved Munson in the second half, completed one of five passes.

"I'm glad it's over," said Simpson of his pro debut.

Taylor, widely praised in the Detroit dressing room, was also applauded by Simpson, a former foe when both played the California junior college circuit.

Praises Taylor

"Albie played a real fine game," Simpson said. "He's gotten better every time I've seen him and I expect he's going to be real tough."

Coach Joe Schmidt of the Lions echoed the sentiments of Simpson and added, "He played exceptionally well... a little better than O.J., I think."

Simpson said he played more than he had expected considering his lack of practice with the team. Coach John Rauch said he put Simpson in more during the second half "because he seemed to be having a good time. He seemed to be enjoying himself."

"He's going to be good," Rauch said of Simpson, "because he runs tough in the middle. He knows how to follow his blockers and he's a fine receiver."

"But hey, this is no new find," Rauch noted. "This guy has done it before."

Morrall's Pass Wins For Colts

Veteran quarterback Earl Morrall was the hero of the night Friday, as he threw a 58-yard touchdown pass to Willie Richardson as time ran out to give Baltimore a 33-29 exhibition victory over Houston.

Morrall's bomb turned an apparent defeat into the Colts' third straight exhibition pro football victory against no defeats.

In the only other game, Detroit overran Buffalo 24-12.

The two games kicked off another busy 12-game weekend exhibition schedule for the pros. Seven games are scheduled to-night and three Sunday afternoon.

Fellow Pros Think Palmer Can Return

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Fellow pros who have fought him and fraternized with him on the fairways of the world say Arnold Palmer faces a long, hard road back—but, to the man, they predict he'll make it.

"Heck fire!" exclaimed Gardiner Dickinson Jr., representing the sentiments of the majority. "This guy should be able to play another ten years—that is, if he wants to."

"He's in trouble," added Billy Maxwell, who played with

Palmer in Arnie's disastrous opening round in the PGA championship here. "But he'll be back and win a lot of tournaments. He's too good a golfer to be stopped at his age."

Palmer, 39, plagued by a three-year-old hip injury and an extended slump, shot the worst round of his 11-year professional career—an 11-over-par 82—Thursday over the NCR Country Club course. Then he withdrew because of an aggravated hip injury and returned home for rest and medical treatment.

In Memoriam

Roschyk

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Anthony (Tony) Roschyk who passed away four years ago, August 16, 1965. We do not need a special day. To bring him to our minds. The days we do not think of him are very hard to find. Within our store of memories, he holds a place apart. For no one else should ever be more cherished in our hearts.
